

Training Staff To Do Daily Checks

Chris Blanchard
Herb Blanchard Haulage Pty Ltd

Why daily checks are critical to your Business

- It is the law
- HVNL Section 60(1)
'A person must not use, or permit to be used, on a road a heavy vehicle that contravenes a heavy vehicle standard applying to that vehicle'
- HVNL Section 89
'A person must not use, or permit to be used, on a road a heavy vehicle that is unsafe.'

Cost To your Business

•By performing effective daily checks your staff are in the best position to help reduce costs and improve productivity to your business

- Find and address potential problems before they manifest into a much larger cost
- Reduced costs of after hours call outs and vehicle towing
- Improved asset utilisation through less unscheduled vehicle downtime
- Higher service level to customers with improved fleet reliability
- Provides proof as a defence for both you and your employees

Safety, Safety, SAFETY!

- We all want our employees driving safe vehicles and therefore provide a safe workplace
- Environmental safety by reducing the risks of pollution, spills and contamination
- Safety to the public. Unlike many other industries who can cordon off or insulate the public from their designated work area our machinery and employees are working in and around the public the moment they leave our yards and we have a duty to not put them at risk.

How do we train our staff to do their daily checks?

Bob Lovf

General Manager, Toll Linehaul and Fleet services

Spud Murphy

National Fleet Manager, DirectHaul Pty Ltd

Nick Ciani

Workshop Manager AJ Mills & Sons

Richard Brian

DAF Technical Support Manager

